

Aaron Nelson, Contracting and Procurement Manager (Lake Charles LNG Project), Shell

Aaron Nelson is the Contracting & Procurement Manager for the Lake Charles LNG Project. In his 12 years at Shell, Aaron has held a variety of Contracting & Procurement roles on several large Deepwater and LNG Projects in the USA, Canada and Brazil. Prior to joining Shell, Aaron served as an Officer in the United States Army. Aaron holds a Master's Degree in Global Supply Chain Management from Indiana University and a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration from Washington University in St. Louis. Outside of work, Aaron enjoys spending time outdoors with his wife, Holly, and their five children.